Market Opportunity Navigator

Launch Market Selection & Value Proposition Workshop

1.0

Defining the problem you want to solve

- Hunt for the largest pain point and resulting job-to-be-done
- Identify your beachhead niche for the first 10,000 users
- Commit to providing them a whole product over time

First steps towards finding product-market fit

To find product-market fit, your business should focus only on the most important and valuable jobs in the eyes of the consumer.

If the jobs are not crucial or valuable, growth and user acquisition may not compensate for high churn, poor word-of-mouth and low repeat usage.

The Bowling Alley

The main idea of the bowling alley is that when you go to cross the chasm and start to plan out how you will build the whole product, it helps to identify specific market segments in the early majority that you want to target and who will help you specify and create the whole product.

A more robust method to prioritise multiple possible target segments

GENERATE YOUR MARKET OPPORTUNITY SET

NAME: Flyability

DATE: 2015

List the venture's core abilities or technological elements

Characterize them based on their functions and properties. Describe them in a general manner, independent from your (envisioned) product.

ABILITIES

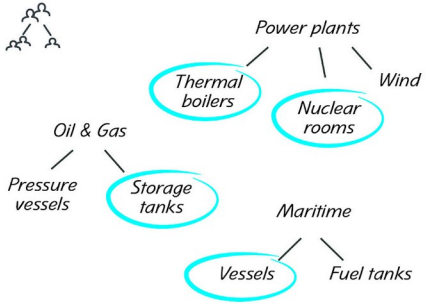

Unique Accessibility	Aviation Abilities	Imagery System
Collision tolerance (humans/walls)	On-site video piloting	HD recording
Decoupled & light protection cage	Dark/ smoked/ dusty environments	Thermal recording
Roles on any surface	Limited fly duration	Real time video streaming
Operates in a range of temperatures & pressures		Remotely adjustable
		Post mission analysis

Which applications can you offer with your core abilities? Which customers may need them? Zoom in to further segment each customer group.

DESIGN YOUR AGILE FOCUS STRATEGY

NAME: Flyability

DATE: 2015

Build a smart portfolio around your Primary Market Opportunity to mitigate your risk and increase your value.

I. Choose a Primary Market Opportunity to focus on (based on the Attractiveness Map).

Power plants – thermal boilers

II. Pick other attractive market opportunities from your set to examine possible Backup and Growth Options.

	Oil & Gas Storage tanks	Maritime vessel inspection	Police surveillance
Relatedness to your Primary Market Opportunity: PRODUCT RELATEDNESS To what extent do the products share: technological competences, required resources, necessary networks
MARKET RELATEDNESS To what extent do the customers share: values and benefits, sales channels, word-of-mouth
Suitable as: BACKUP OPTION Attractive market opportunities that do not share major risks with your Primary Market Opportunity to allow for a change in direction	☐ Backup	☐ Backup	☑ Backup
GROWTH OPTION Attractive market opportunities that allow your business to create additional value	☑ Growth	☑ Growth	☐ Growth

III. Design your Agile Focus Strategy:
