What is your go-to-market strategy? *

(530 characters remaining)

We are now focused on generating commercial interest from customers in the transportation industry. We've developed a good understanding of their problems through market research and competitive analysis. We are now testing these hypothesis by reaching out to teams in the transportation industries. We also aim to validate the broader market opportunity for financial planning & management software (FP&M) by speaking with finance teams in other industries and markets.
